LOCAL MISCELLANY.

Thomas W. Knox, who arrived on Sunday last by the City of Richmond, had on March 28 an interview with Sir Henry Halford, then President of the National Rifle Association of Great Britain, at which Sir Henry expressed great regret at his inability to send a British team to compete in the international match of this year. He said he had made all possible effort to secure a team from the three kingdoms, but was pre-vented by the Scotch, who refused to make any compromise. He proposed that there should be a competition for a British team by England, Scotland, and Ireland, each country to send 12 men. From the 36 thus assembled the British team of 8 should be selected. "We should thus," said Sir Henry, "secure the best shots in Great Britain. They might be all Irish, all Scotch, or all English if you please, but would certainly represent us as we would like to be represented, and we know that to as we would like to be represented, and we know that to hope for victory over you we must have nothing short of the best possible British team."

The Irish Team consented to Sir Henry's proposal, but the Scotch refused it, and so the arrangement fell through. Sir Henry said there would be a Scotch team and an Irish one at the Centennial, but no British team, for the reason that there was no association under whose auspices it could go, as the National Association could and would do nothing toward sending a local team. "Say to my American friends that I am very sorry I cannot go to Philadelphia this year," was the closing remark of Sir Henry. "I greatly enjoyed my acquaint-ance with your riflemen last year, and am much disappointed that I shall not be able to renew it this season; and say to Major Fuiton that I have adopted his position in shooting, and think I make at least 10 per cent better scores than with my old one. I nearly tere off my finger in learning, but it is all right now, and will probably continue so."

THE NEW-YORK EAST CONFERENCE. EXCITING DISCUSSIONS-METHODIST PROGRESS DUR-ING THE YEAR.

The New-York East Conference met in prirate session yesterday for the purpose of inquiring into the character of the candidates for the ministry. At the spen session it was announced that no more applicants would be admitted on trial during the prefent year. The Rev. Mr. Henson was charged with having preached to disaffected persons in a private residence in Newbridge, after having refused the pastoral charge of the regular church. Mr. Heuson, in reply, claimed that if he had taken the regular charge it would have made it nebessary for him topurchase a horse and wagon and preach three times eveny Sunday for an annual salary of $600. The Committee on the Book Concern reported that it was financially a success, and had been conducted faithfully. The course of The Christian Advocate was severely naimadverted upon by several members of the Committee. The Rev. Dr. Curry said the Committee had done him great injustice, and denied that he had assailed any men or measures. The Rev. Dr. Buckley denied the statements, charging that Dr. Lanahan had been assailed, the laymen also, and the speaker had got his share of abuse. He continued at some length, and was interrupted by cries of "shame," and with hisses. Several delegates expressed the hope that the speaker would be permitted to proceed without further interruption. At the conclusion of his remarks, Dr. Curry said he was in very ilhealth and not able to reply. The total number of probationers was reported to be 5,711, an increase of 1,869 over last year; members, 37,921; children baptized, 1,964; churches, 276, valued at $4,211,750; total collections, $43,239. The managers of the Centennial Exhibition were requested to prevent the sale of liquor on the grounds. The Committee on the Book Concern reported that it was

A PURE MONEY ASSOCIATION. A small number of persons, among whom were William Cullen Bryant, President William Wood of the Board of Education, Stephen Pearl Andrews, the Rev. G. W. Samson, and W. M. Boucher, met last evening at the University Building, in response to a call for the formation of a Pure Money Association. William Cullen Bryant, as temporary Chairman, stated that the object of the Association was to discuss the question of the cur-rency. There had been so many views expressed in regard to this subject that meny were entirely at a loss as to wint was right, that it was desired to give the public some correct views in the matter. His belief was that in the present state of the money was that in the present state of the money market, specie payments might be resumed, had the country gold with which to resume, without causing any greater stagnation than now exists. The Secretary, W. M. Boucher, claimed that scientific investigation should supersede political wirepulling in the great matters of the day. The Rev. G. W. Samson read a paper giving a digest of the history of currency, and the principles which govern it. Addresses were also made by F. G. Fairchild and Stephen Pearl Andrews. Ex-Judge Charles A. Peabody was elected President, Parke Godwin Treasurer, and W. M. Boucher Secretary. Prof. White of Cornell University was invited to deliver his lecture on French paper money before the Association.

WOMEN'S CENTENNIAL PROJECTS.

A meeting of the Woman's Centennial Union was held yesterday afternoon at Chickering Hall. Only two more of these general meetings will be held, on April 19 and 26, before the business here will be closed, and all exhibits and moneys forwarded to Philadelphia. There will be a public exhibition of the banner at Chickering Hall before sending it to Philadelphia, but the time is not yet fixed. Schaus's Gallery, at No. 149 Broadway, will be opened for the benefit of the Union for two weeks, beginng April 17 Among the pictures on exhibition will be Cabanel's "Penelope." Mrs. Gillespie has been invited by the Committee of the Woman's Guild to address the business and industrial women of this dress the business and industrial women of this city at Cooper Umon on the evening of April 19, and Mr. Cooper has given the use of the bail. There were 2,000 women present at the lecture last Monday evening. Invitations to the grand ball at the Academy of Music on April 25 will be sent to the Emperor of Brezil and the Diplomatic Corps, to the President-elect of Peru, and to other distinguished persons. The play of Cinderella will be given at Chickering Hail on the evening of April 20, and many tickets have already been sold. "For His Sake," the play by Mrs. Imogen Sykes, will be presented at the Academy of Music on April 28.

THE DECREASE IN IMMIGRATION. The report of the Commissioners of Emigration for the three months ending March 31 shows that the decrease in the arrivals as compared with the same period in 1875 is much greater than was anticipated. The number of immigrants arriving was 9,018, against 13,597 last year. Of these arrivals only 6,022 were aliens. Denmark sent 1,481 persons; England, 1,102; aliens. Denmark sent 1,481 persons; regiand, 1,402;
France, 273; Germany, 3,081; Ireland, 1,534. The amount of head tax due from the steamship companies on alien passengers amounts to $4,033, being $5,359 less than the amount received for the same period last year. It is anticipated that during the remainder of the year

It is anticipated that during the remainder of the federease will continue.

Yesterday a meeting of the German Emigrant Society was held for the purpose of adopting a memorial to the Legislature in reference to granting the Commissioners of Emigration an appropriation. The memorial sets forth the necessity for maintaining Castle Garden as an immigrant landing-piace, and also the institutions on Ward's Island for the sick and destitute. A committee was appointed to go to Albany without delay, and urge the granting of an appropriation before the matter is brought up by the Senate Committee.

THE WEBB SUIT. In the suit of the Government against Gen. James Watson Webb, in the United States District Court, the hearing of evidence was concluded yesterday. Gen. Webb and William Hunter, Assistant Secretary of State, were the only witnesses examined. Pending the argument of a point of law, the jury was discharged until this merning. The request of District-Attorney Bliss that the jury be directed to return a verdict for the Government was denied. The counsel for the Gov rnment ernment was denied. The counsel for the Gov riment claimed that Gen. Webb, having proved that he paid the money as directed by the claimant, Wells, insisting that this was done with the approval of Secretary Seward, he (Webb) must personally retund the amount, as nothing but an act of Congress could justify the payment, and that Secretary Seward's direction did not excuse Gen. Webb. If he acted by that direction, he did so in his own wrong. Judge Blatchford, in declining to instruct the jury, said that it would be left for the jury so determine whether Gen. Webb had received instructions from his Government or not. The jury will be charged this merning.

LIGHTS ON CARRIAGES AT NIGHT.

The Police Commissioners have urged the Alderman to pass an ordinance compelling all carriages to carry lighted lamps in the streets at night. President Smith said yesterday that the present ordinance was an excellent protection to burglars and criminals who use carriages at night. It was a misdemeanor for any public carriages at night. It was a misdemeanor for any pulsar carriage to be used in the streets or at the stands without two lighted lamps. If a lazy policeman saw a carriage passing through the street, it was afterward reported that there had been a burglary in that neighborhood, and this was probably the carriage that took away the booty, the policeman would sy that he believed that it was a private carriage, and that if he stopped every private carriage he would have no time for pairol duty. Burglars hiring a hack transformed it into a private carriage by putting out the lights.

The Gorham Company have leased the elegant store erected by John Duncan, known as No. 37 Union-square, and will remove their retail department there on the 1st of May. The necessary changes are there on the 1st of May. The necessary changes are now making, and the Company propose to place on exhibition on the first floor of the building the largest and most elegant display of a lverware ever made in this country. This new departure of this Company has been judiciously made. Their new store will be in the center of the best portion of Broadway for the retail trade, and the well-known excellence and elegance of their goods will no doubt make their establishment one of the notable sights for our Centennial guests to visit.

GEO. H. PENDLETON DEFENDED.

HIS MANAGEMENT OF THE KENTUCKY CENTRAL CLAIM SATISFACTORY TO THE BOAD AND THE BOWLER HEIRS—A HEARTY VINDICATION FROM THE ELDEST HEIR.

One of our reporters, hearing that Mr. Goo One of our reporters, hearing that Mr. Geo. P. Bowler, one of the principal hears in interest to the Bowler estate, to which the Repoblican press are giving such tender care just now, was in the city, called upon that gentleman yesterday. He found him at his office, that of General Manager of the Kentucky Central Railroad. As no one directly interested has spoken on the subject yet, we thought a talk with Mr. Bowler on the subject would be good reading. After the exchange of the usual courtesies, we opened up with: When did you return, Mr. Bowler—Day before yesterday, having been detained in Baltimore by the illness of Mrs. Bowler.

Reporter—It was after you left, I believe, that the original charges against Mr. George H. Pendieton were first made public?

Mr. Bowler—It was on the very Monday morning that I left. I had expected to leave the Saturday previous, but, being detained until Monday, took the II a. m. train the honday from Cumminsville. I read the papers that m rining.

Reporter—It would very much like to have your comments on the affair for The Enquirer.

Mr. Bowler—Well, I have no objection, provided you get at the straight of the story, which nobody scenas yet to have done.

Reporter—Id not Mr. William Ernst, in an Enquirer Interview, give the Kentucky Central Railroad's version of the affair gerrectiff.

Mr. B.—He gave the public business of the road con-of the affair correctly i Mr. B.—He gave the public business of the road cor-rectly, but did not treat, as in fact he could not, of the private affairs which have been raked up and misrepreprivate affairs which have been raked up and misrepre-sented since.

Leporter—You are related to Mr. Pendleton, I be leve ! Bowler-He is my uncle, being my mother's eldest Broiner. That's all.

Reporter-You have of course read the comments of the press of the country! Would you o ject to simplyfying natters by giving a succinet statement of the whole

Mr. Bowler-Certainly not. Reporter-Weil, I should be glad to have it in that Mr. Bowler then proceeded to make a statement, which

Mr. Howler—Certaining not.

Mr. Bowler then proceeded to make a statement, which mis embecantially as follows:

During my five weeks' absence I have read with the greatest hedgenation the scurritous articles containing one inquist and malicious attacks upon Mr. Pendicton. It was a member of the Board of control of the Kentneky Central Emirod at the time the arrangement was made faining his compensation for the collection of the glaim against the Government, and it met with my heartly consent and full approval. My mother, in her own interest and as guardian of the two minor children, was consulted, although that was not obligatory according to the arricles of the association of the K. C. B. E., and the arrangement was unactivatinely confirmed by her. The sottlement, as made by Mr. P. to the Board, was entirely satisfactory to usuad is now, afy brother, now within a few mouths of his majority, has expressed himself in the most positive terms as to the justice of the compensation, and gives it his most cordin approval. My fatast nied July 4, 1864, and since that time Mr. P. has had charge of the estate and or the separate property of my mother. By no words can I convey our feeling in regard to the faithful and asseifish manner in which he has devoted his time and intensity to the administration of the trust. He sacrificed his convenience, revaile interests, and the practice of his profession. At the time of my father's death these were large debts which were paid, not by the sacrifice of his profession. At the time of my father's death these were large debts when were property and the practice of his profession. At the time of my father's death these were large debts when were property and the practice of his profession. At the time of my father's death of the profession. This continued for years, several lawsuns, involving large amounts of money and very lutricate questions, were pending at the time of my father's death. One required the alternance of Mr. Pendicton and course for weeks on several occasions at Cav be fully rewarded. The citizens of Cherimari know that the estate has been managed to the best advantage, and that these attacks from abroad, under prefense of pro-tecting our interest, are prompted by partisan maliguity Heperter—One more question, Mr. Bowler. Do you know anything of the allegation that Mr. Pendleton used money in the prosecution of the claim I Mr. Bowler—I am perfectly satisfied that it is absome. Mr. Bowier—I am perfectly lutely false in every particular

WASHINGTON, April 12.—In the Court of Commissioners of Alabama Claims to day the opinion of the Court in relating to the cases known as "War Blaks was delivered by Judge Jewel. The following is a syllabus of the opinion:

Insurance companies and manners cannot recover in this Court aniess they show two things: First, that they suffered damage of prove losses by reason of the destruction of property by the Confederate cruisers Alabama, Florida, and the Shemandean after she lett Melbourne; and second, that their business in insuring against war risss during the reachien canced their a net loss, both o which being proved they may recover a sum equal to the amount of such net loss in their business if their losses by said cruisers amounted to the aggregate of such loss, but in no case greater finan the around of the net loss on such war risk business. In determining such net loss the amounts paid and received for reinsurance are to be taken into consideration.
